HAND MICRO TELEPHONE SETS.

GENTLEMEN,

Sealed tenders will be received in the Office of the Chief Electrical Engineer in Mysore, Bangalore, for the supply of Telephone sets up to 12 Noon on 22nd April 1940 and the tenders should be superscribed "Tenders for Hand Micro Telephone Sets to be opened at 12 Noon on 22nd April 1940."

Desk type Hand Micro Telephone Sets in casing of black moulded material with ringing bell incorporated in the casing suitable for centre battery working and provided with a number Dial Switch suitable for automatic telephone traffic and conforming to British Standard Specification ... 50

These instruments are intended to work on the Bangalore and Mysore Automatic Telephone Exchange equipments supplied by Messrs. Siemens Brothers, London. The Bangalore Automatic Telephone Exchange is equipped with No. 51 Equipment and the Mysore Automatic Telephone Exchange with No. 16 equipment. The instruments shall be specially designed to meet the requirements in tropical countries.

The transmitter shall be of the inset type of the latest design and the receiver shall have a transmission efficiency much superior to the normal commercial bell receiver.

The electrodes shall be wholly immersed in the granules to ensure permanent contact and uniform pressure.

The moving parts shall have the least effective mass and the instruments shall not fry or howl or break circuit. The transmission efficiency and resistance of the set shall remain steady irrespective of the manner in which the instruments are held. The transmission efficiency shall not be less than that specified in the British Post Office Standards.

The instruments shall be so designed that the side tone is fully controlled. Full description of the method adopted to overcome the side tone must be described by the tenderer and all literature relating to this must be furnished along with the tender.

The side tone circuit must be designed to control the side tone with equal efficiency not only on extremely short and medium lengths but also on long distant connections.

The telephone subscribers are connected to the exchanges partly by No. 10 B. & S., Copper overhead wires and partly by underground cable of 10 lbs., section. The Microphones must be designed to work satisfactorily under these conditions.

The side tone shall always be kept within such limits that the speaker does not experience overloading effect in spite of the wide range of line condition which would be met in the actual practice.

If the instruments are fitted with radio interference eliminator, full and detailed description of this equipment must be furnished along with the tender.

The firms shall submit with their quotations descriptive literature and full details of the instruments offered.

The firms should quote their best rates for delivery, f.o.r., Bangalore, and also mention the exact date of delivery.

The Chief Electrical Engineer does not bind himself to accept the lowest or any tender, but reserves to himself the right to select any tender as he may consider it expedient to accept.

Withdrawal from the quotation after it is accepted or failure to make the supply within the stipulated time will entail cancellation of the order and the purchase being made at the firm's expense elsewhere.

Supply on this tender will be subject to the general conditions of contract prevailing in the department for local purchases.

M. HAYATH,
Deputy Chief Electrical Engineer.
